House Group Tables Citizenship Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The House immigration committee voted today to table a resolution by Representative Geyer (D., Cal.) for an investigation of the manner in which W. J. Cameron of the Ford Motor Company obtained his citizenship.

The action came after Lemuel G. Schofield, a special assistant attorney general, had told the committee that Cameron "met every requirement of the statute under which he was naturalized." Cameron was born in Canada.

CAMERON INQUIRY ASKED

House Gets Resolution Urging Study of His Citizenship

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Representative Geyer of California introduced a resolution today calling upon Attorney General Jackson to investigate the granting of citizenship papers in 1935 to W. J. Cameron, general manager of the Ford Motor Company.

In a statement accompanying the resolution, Mr. Meyer said:

"Mr. Cameron's own statements, under oath, indicate that he obtained his citizenship by fraud or was guilty of fraud in exercising his rights of citizenship. He either swore falsely when he petitioned for citizenship or when he registered to vote.

"Mr. Cameron obtained American citizenship in 1935 without the usual five-year waiting period by claiming that he had voted quite regularly from 1900 to 1927. One month later when he registered to vote in Detroit he swore under oath that he had never before voted. The records of Dearborn County, where he lived prior to 1927, show he never voted there."

Resigns Alien Registry Post

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—After serving for six months as Director of Alien Registration, Earl G. Harrison has resigned to return to private law practice in Philadelphia. When Mr. Harrison was appointed in July to undertake the first national registration of the foreign-born, it was understood that he would remain only six months. A total of 4,741,971 aliens was registered up to ten days ago.

Report given to those at meeting
by Mr. Daniel Goodhue.

A community naturalization service is not a novel idea so much as it is one that has been allowed to lapse during the years of peace. On April 3, 1918, there was held at Washington a conference on "Americanization as a War Measure". Defense groups and Chambers of Commerce played a prominent part in this meeting. From it developed local promotion of naturalization as a means of protecting the nation and transforming the foreigner into an American. Believing that a united populace is as urgently needed today as it was then it is proposed to rediscover the spirit of that conference locally. Following are a number of salient facts regarding the status of the alien which seem to make such an effort to better morale now not only wise but absolutely necessary.

- 1--The 1930 census showed 33 1/3% of the city population foreign born. Department of Justice and Post Office figures now are much higher.
- 2--About 1/3 of Cambridge's relief load is alien at an approximate cost to the tax payer of a quarter million dollars annually. The percentage and cost is expected to rise rapidly as the defense program gets under way.
- 3--Narrowing of job opportunities and a big rise in the number of aliens in Massachusetts, if reflected in the city, will create hardships for citizens as well as aliens. A large share of his distress can be avoided by now aiding aliens to become citizens, before the full effect of this economic pincers becomes too severe on the community.

In so far as possible the proposed service would do on a community basis what is now being done state-wide by the Division of Immigration and Americanization. This service is unique in that, until last summer, it was the only one of its kind in the state. Federal authorities have pronounced this service invaluable. Since this agency maintains no separate community reports the following facts are taken from its last state report:

- 1--the state foreign born comprise nearly a quarter of the total population
- 2--Immigration into Massachusetts is on the rise; the 1939 figure is twice that for 1933, while the national figure was held down to a third of the permissible quota.
- 3--the work of the federal bureau in Massachusetts in 1939 was double that of 1938 without any increase in funds or personnel
- 4--Massachusetts is 7th among the states in the number of immigrants received and second in the extent of citizenship activities; declarations filed annually average 11,000 but this figure could be raised considerably with community help
- 5--requests for aid in naturalization problems have doubled in the past decade
- 6--requests for aid in naturalization problems have risen 400% since 1920
- 7--the service reaches five times as many Canadians as any other group except Italians. The Canadian figure is twice that for the Italians. More British Empire emigrants were aided in 1939 than for the entire European continent.

The Chairman reported on the hearing on the Budget before the Ways and Means Committee on March 25. A sheet of increased expenses due to the moving was submitted by the supervisor and herein incorporated into the record.

The board viewed the large office, agreed that it was crowded and that an additional room was required.

The requests for an increased budget were approved. The board agreed that present tensions and apprehensions in regard to infiltration of alien groups by foreign agents indicated that the work for foreign born as done by the division was an important defense activity.

The annual report for 1941 was given to the board.

Board meeting at 4.

A meeting of the Board of Immigration and Americanization was held at Room 208, Tremont Bldg at 4 P.M.

The following members were present:

Mrs. Eva Whiting White, Chairman
Mr. B. A. Jzurski, Mr. Chivaluit Miss Joan Kiely.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with as they had already been mailed to the Board members and were approved as though read.

The policies of the Board, decided upon at the last meeting, and previously submitted to the individual members for approval, were given to the board. The supervisor reported that a series of meetings had been held with the staff on May 9 and the policies given to the staff and discussed with them. She also reported that the staff member whose husband was engaged in work in a similar field to that of the division - but on a commercial basis - had severed his connection with that work.

Miss O'Connor also reported on a conference with Mr. Varney relative to additional office rentals; the fact that the federal naturalization office has hired 75 offices in this bldg; the telephone expense and the economy of an additional phone; the lighting expense and the possibility of use of fluorescent desk lamps in supervisor's office; the lack of window curtains or blinds pending lease.

The board discussed the matters reported upon & expressed approval of the purchase of a lamp using fluorescent bulbs for the supervisor's office but on basis of studies made for wider installation disapproved any wider use here.

Miss O'Connor reported on changes and removals in W.P.A. staff and stated that Miss Sheehan had promised to send here again the Lynn teachers used last year.

The proposed leave of absence for Mrs. Dykes of two months without pay beginning July 1 was approved by the Bd.

Miss O'Connor reported that Miss Gordon would resign July 1, 1941 because of marriage.

OTHER WOMEN'S LIVES

By DONNA FORD

MAJ. MARGARET McSWEENEY, liaison officer for the Massachusetts Women's Defense Corps, has had the unusual distinction of having been in the American foreign service in Europe for 10 years, from 1923 to 1933. She traveled all over European countries, living in Venice; Berne, Switzerland; Frankfort am Main, Germany; Paris, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Belgium, reporting from each country as to the sale of American products. The last year that she was in Europe, she was in Berlin, as stylist for a fashionable American department store, and also in Scandinavian countries.

Maj. Margaret McSweeney

SHE started her business career with courses at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Following the first world war, while she was very young, she served in France with the American expeditionary force. Consequently it was most appropriate that Gov. Saltonstall should appoint her a year ago to the Massachusetts committee on public safety. Now she travels constantly back and forth across the state, speaking three or four times a week at public meetings in cities and towns, on the imperative necessity for every civilian to train for some defense duty. There are now 30 auxiliary women's defense schools in Massachusetts, she with 3000 women enrolled. With the 2000 who have already graduated, there will be 5000 thoroughly trained women in this state by the end of September, says Maj. McSweeney.

SKETCHES

Our Gracious Ladies

By NATALIE GORDON

As chief liaison officer of the Massachusetts Women's Defense Corps, Maj. Margaret McSweeney leads a busy and rather hectic life. . . . Vital and magnetic, she works daily at the school's headquarters on Boylston street surrounded by ringing phones, messenger boys and pre-occupied captains climbing in and out of the dugout. . . . Although she was born in New York city, she and her family soon moved to Massachusetts and she attended schools here, taking courses at M. I. T. and studying pianoforte at the N. E. Conservatory of Music. . . . Then packed her bags for Paris and a wonderful year at the Sorbonne, living on the famous Left Bank with the Cathedral of Notre Dame for a view from her window. . . . Became so entranced with the European mode of life that she decided to stay on, and became a member of the American foreign service, supervising exports. . . . Lived abroad for 10 years, and though Venice and the countryside of Italy intrigued her interest, and the concerts and music of Germany thrilled her, it was Paris that she loved above all. . . . She attended the first anniversary of the last Pope's coronation in the Sistine Chapel, where she sat in the same pew with the late Queen Marie of Rumania, and where no detail of the ceremony, even to the costumes of the Swiss guard, was changed from the original rites 700 years ago. . . . Dynamic and with a lovely speaking voice, she is in constant demand on the lecture platform and makes an average of three speeches weekly for the defense school. . . . The apples of her eye are two of her captains in the motor corps who can change a truck's tire in a minute and a half. . . .

MAJ. MARGARET MCSWEENEY

Thinks women's high degree of responsibility and attention to detail make them admirably adapted for defense work. . . . She lives with her mother in an apartment on T Wharf which she adores because it reminds her of Venice. . . . A gifted linguist, she speaks French, German, English and Italian fluently. . . . Is famous for her inimitable singing of gay French songs self-accompanied at the piano. . . . Warm-hearted and generous, she gets an immense amount of fun from life because she gives so much of herself to it.

Luncheon meeting

P.M. meeting at which I spoke.

It was a very poorly placed meeting and followed a day filled to the brim with activities. The meeting was to be held in the Main Dining Room and was to be presided over by Miss Keegan. No arrangement whatever had been made to clear the dining room or arrange seats for audience or place for speaker who had book lists and books. Under those circumstances the speech coned and did offer little.

N DAILY GLOBE

Busko Crew "Excludable Aliens"

Justice Department officials in Washington today announced that, so far as their department is concerned, the investigation into the case of 20 Norwegian men and one Norwegian woman, brought here with their trawler Busko, by the United States Navy from Greenland waters, was "settled."

The Norwegians' status, clarified by the Justice Department attitude, is now that of "excludable aliens who have entered this country without proper papers and are subject to deportation."

Still to be ironed out are the subject of their being without papers on account of arriving here involuntarily under naval escort, and the matter of deportation in times like these when passenger steamers are not running to Norway.

Legally the Norwegians have two courses open to them—to appeal to the Immigration Board of Appeals or to seek a writ of habeas corpus in the Federal courts.
